OUTLINES.

Rev Sam P. Jones, the noted Georgia evangelist, died suddenly on a train in Arkansas yesterday——There has doubtless been a compromise of the suit between the different heirs of the late A. M. Weightman, the Philadelphia quinine manufacturer who left an estate valued at $60,000,000——Congressman John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, spoke at Greensboro, N. C., yesterday in reply to a speech made there recently by Secretary Shaw——An explosion in a coal mine at Durham, England, last night killed 25 men and entombed 200 others——The case of Sheriff Ship, of Cattanooga, for contempt of the United States Supreme Court for permitting a negro to be lynched came up before that tribunal yesterday——Suit has been brought against President J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway by a stockholder who seeks to compel him to disgorge $10,000,000, the allegation being that Hill bought stocks at $150 a share, and unloaded them on the Great Northern at $200 a share——In New York yesterday a jury was secured in the suit of the government against the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company for allowing rebates to the Sugar Trust——The United States Supreme Court yesterday denied a rehearing in the case against Senator Burton, of Kansas and he will have to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $2,500 for accepting a fee in a case against the government while he was a United States Senator——New York markets: Money on call steady, 3 1-2 to 6 per cent, ruling rate 3 3-4, closing bid 3 1-2, offered at 4; spot cotton 10 points higher, closing quiet at 11.40; flour steady with light trade; wheat easy, No. 2 red, 79; corn steady, No. 2, 54 elevator; oats barely steady, mixed 38 1-2; turpentine and rosin firm.

People are finding out that they can't correctly spell simplified spelling without a simplified spelling book.

Punch says "when married folks do not get along with each other they have themselves to blame." Well, who disputes the fact that they do blame each other?

It is reported that President Roosevelt continues to declare that wealth must be taxed. We would like to be in a position to be a worried taxpayer over a report like that.

Secretary Taft tells the Cubans that he doesn't know when the United States will evacuate the Island Republic. That is one time a Republican was caught pretending not to know everything.

In Oklahoma a man's wife broke her neck by stumbling over her husband while he was praying. Most married ladies' necks are in no danger of being broken in any such singular manner as that.

North Carolinians who are asked to vote the Republican ticket can't spare their ballot hand long enough from holding their nose to keep out the odor of Republicanism as it has existed in North Carolina. They can't stand for it.

It is all a mistake for the Republicans to claim that several trusts have been tried. However, their patience has been tried in hiring lawyers to prove that the Roosevelt administration may know things o nthem but not enough to bust them as long as standpattery is in existance.

Senator Overman on Saturday spoke to a large audience at Ayden, Pitt county, and that night another big crowd heard him at Greenville. Down there he was in the neck of the woods where he rubbed up against one of noblest Romans of North Carolina, Ex-Senator, Thos. J. Jarvis.

Great interest was felt in Wilmington over the Chicago baseball games to decide the world's championship. Nevertheless people down this way couldn't help feeling shocked that the deciding game was played on Sunday with 19,000 people yelling and creating the usual bedlam that characterizes contests on the diamond.

The patrons of a high school principal in New Jersey brought charges against him for hugging and kissing his girl pupils. He resigned, saying that he did so "to accept a more genial position." He must have cinched a job to train in a chorus.

NEGRO SHOT IN BACK

George Gant, Laborer, Found on Street Early Sunday Morning Severely Wounded,

CHARGED WITH A HOLD-UP

Library of Congress

Young Mr. Robert Carr Admits Shooting But Says Colored Man Attempted to Hold Him Up on Castle St.—In Hospital.

George Gant, a negro employed as a laborer by Mr. Joe Schadd, the contractor, is in the hospital and may die as the result of a bullet wound in his back received Saturday night. Mr. Robert Carr, a young white man employed as a clerk in the Brooklyn Market, on North Fourth street, admits the shooting but alleges that he was set upon by the negro late Saturday night or Sunday morning, just after midnight, near Front and Castle streets, as he was on his way home, and was fully justified in the act, as the negro was attacking him with a long knife.

Early Sunday morning as Watchman Mintz was on his way to Robinson & King's naval store yard, at Front and Orange streets he found the negro doubled over but able to help himself. Returning from the naval store yard a little later, he found the negro seated in the same vicinity and notified the police station that something should be done for the man. The hospital ambulance was summoned and it was ascertained by the examining physicians at the institution that the negro had a bullet squarely in his back near the hips. He had suffered some from the loss of blood and was not out of danger during the day. He told the story that he was set upon by a crowd of young white men late Saturday night and was fired on by one of the party who said that he would make the negro move.

Yesterday morning Mr. Carr made report to the police that Saturday night between 12 and 1 o'clock as he was on his way home up Castle street, on his bicycle, near Front, he noticed a negro in the shadow of a tree. As he approached the negro ran out in front of him with a long knife drawn and ordered him to stop. Mr. Carr said that he endeavored to avoid the man by turning the wheel first one way and then another, but the black man kept before him and was commanding him to stop. Mr. Carr had his pistol in reach on account of the lateness of the hour and the fact that he was returning home with some money from the market on his person and drew it on the negro, who finally admitted that he made a mistake but insisted on Mr. Carr's coming to one side under the trees to prove that he had made a mistake. Mr. Carr would not do this and as the negro wheeled he fired on him.

When this report was made, the two incidents were quickly connected and Mr. Carr was sent by Chief of Police Williams to the hospital to identify the wounded negro which he did rather emphatically. The colored man will be held, if he recovers, for an investigation of the affair. Mr. Carr has been recognized for his appearance at the same time. When he fired on the negro he says that the knife was dropped and that was turned over to the police by Mr. Carr Saturday night.

Gant has previously borne a good reputation and is vouched for by Mr. F. J. Vinson, formerly of Cumberland county where the negro lived all his life until a year ago. Gant was formerly employed by Messrs. A. J. Bullard & Co., of Vander, Cumberland county. He is reported to be well behaved, polite and in no wise insolent.

SAWYER AND ADAMS MUST HANG NOV. 1ST.

President Roosevelt Yesterday Declined to Grant Them Commutation of Sentence—A Surprise to the Public.

Robert Sawyer and Arthur Adams, the negro mutineers from the schooner Harry A. Berwind, now confined in the county jail here, will hang on Thursday, November 1st., President Roosevelt yesterday having declined to grant either an absolute pardon or a commutation to the prisoners. This will come as a distinct surprise to the public which generally believed that if the prisoners were not pardoned outright, their sentence would be commuted at least to life imprisonment. The prisoners themselves have been unusually confident since the confession of Scott when he was hanged some months ago, and the announcement now that the President has declined to interfere will no doubt be a crushing blow to them in the jail to-day. The first news of the action of the President reached the city early this morning in the following Associated Press telegram to the Star from Washington:

"Washington, Oct. 15.—The President has decided not to commute the sentence of death imposed on Arthur Adams and Robert Sawyer, the two negroes convicted in North Carolina of murder and mutiny. The men were found guilty of murdering Captain Rummill, the mate, the steward and the engineer of the schooner Berwind, on the morning of October 12th, 1905, on the high seas, while the vessel was on her way from Mobile to Philadelphia.

"Scott, one of the negroes who was a member of the crew has already been hanged for his participation in the crime, and made a confession that purported to exonerate Adams and Sawyer of any part in the crime."

INTEREST GROWING.

Four Services Sunday at First Baptist Church—Forty-odd Have Been Received Into Fellowship—Announcements for the Week.

As a result of the consecrated labors of the Rev. Dr. Hamilton and of his faithful and earnest co-laborers, the First Baptist Church is in the midst of a Pentecostal shower of blessings. Since the special meetings began forty -odd have asked for admission to fellowship in the church, a large number have gone forward and re-dedicated themselves to God's service and still others have asked for the prayers of the Christian people that they may be led to a saving knowledge of the Christ.

The four services held on Sunday were all blessed in the salvation of souls. At the night service at least one thousand persons attended. Dr. Hamilton was at his best, and each one who had been working so hard for the spiritual success of the meetings went home at the close of the night service feeling that his or her labor had not been in vain.

The subject of the evangelist's sermon Sunday night was, "What Will you Give?"' founded on the 14th and 15th verses of the 26th chapter of Matthew's Gospel.

Until further notice services will be held at 4 o'clock in the afternoons and 7:30 at nights. This morning at 10 o'clock at the Brooklyn Baptist church, Dr. Hamilton will preach the opening sermon at the annual meeting of the Wilmington Baptist Association.

MARKETS AND SHIPPING.

Local Paragraphs of the Port-British Steamer Aground.

Cotton reached 11 cents for middling yesterday—the high mark of the season. The receipts continue quite heavy, having been 6,323 bales against only 2,499 same day last season.

The big British steamer Lord Curzon, 2,338 tons, Capt. Steel, arrived yesterday from Buenos Ayres, light, and will receive cargo of cotton from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

The British steamer Westlands, which cleared Saturday and sailed same day for Newport News, put back in port yesterday for coal. The steamer encountered strong head winds off the coast and fearing her fuel supply would not withstand a storm of any length, she put back to Wilmington to have her bunkers filled.

The schooner Harriet C. Kerlin, 468 tons, Capt. Cochran arrived yesterday from New York with cargo of coal for Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son. She is discharging at the compress. The schooner Kate B. Ogden cleared yesterday for Philadelphia with cargo of 450 cords of poplar wood, consigned by Floyd & Jones, agents for B. B. Wright & Co., of Richmond, Va.

While proceeding up the river yesterday morning, drawing 22 1-2 feet of water with cargo of fertilizer constituents for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., the big British steamer Cheviot Range swung hard ashore near Lilliput shoals, just this side of Southport. The cargo is being lightered with a hope of floating the vessel.

GREAT STATE FAIR

Grounds Will Be Thrown Open To-day —Prospects are Bright—Trolley Car Accident in Raleigh—New Enterprises Chartered.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 18.—The first victim of Raleigh's double street car track from the State house out Hillsboro street to the fair ground met his death last night. He stepped off of one car on to the adjacent track just as a car on the track came up from the opposite direction. He was knocked down and dragged thirty feet or more. His head was fractured in three places and he died within a half hour. His name was Jordan Chaves, a highly respected negro in the employ of the W. A. Myatt Mercantile Co.

A charter was issued this morning for the Realty Co., of Tarboro; capital $10,000 by R. B. Hyatt, Donnell Gilliam and others. Another charter is the Jennette-Singletary Co., of Lumberton, to conduct a wholesale and retail mercantile business. The capital is $25,000 and the principal incorporators are W. T. Jennette and J. T. Singletary.

The finishing touches were given the exhibits and midway attractions for the great State Fair today and the gates will be opened to the public to-morrow with every indication that the fair will be one of the most successful ever held both in point of the character and completeness of the exhibits and in attendance. The weather conditions are ideal with every indication that there will be no unfavorable change for several days. Governor Glenn will deliver the address for the opening at noon to-morrow. An elaborate programme of special attractions has been arranged for each day. President Harvey Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, will deliver an address Friday.

WILMINGTON BAPTIST ASSO.

Annual Sessions Begin With Brooklyn Church Here To-day.

The sixth annual sessions of the Wilmington Baptist Association, comprising a number of counties in Eastern Carolina, will convene with Brooklyn Church, this city, this morning and a large attendance is expected. The first session will be devoted to business with introductory sermon by Dr. Hale, of Wilmington, to-night. The missionary sermon will be by Rev. M. C. Walton, of Burgaw, probably tomorrow night. Mr. G. E. Leftwich is moderator of the Association; C. E. McCullen, of Burgaw, clerk; L. R. Highsmith, of Kerr, treasurer. The public is cordially invited to attend the services in connection with the Association.

Police Court Yesterday.

The docket in the police court yesterday morning was rather light for Monday. There were seven defendants all told and six of the number were let off with the costs, none of the cases being of importance. The single exception was Rachel Roberts, an old stager, who was given 30 days on the farm for being drunk and disorderly. Annie J. Nixon, colored, was charged with an assault but the prosecutor withdrew the warrant and paid the costs.

PAWNEE BILL SHOWS

Two Exhibitions to Crowded Tents at Hilton Park in Wilmington Yesterday.

VERY CREDITABLE PARADE

People Saw Exhibition Under Difficulties But Average Spectator was Very Well Pleased—Big Aggregation Off for Whiteville.

It is estimated that between six and seven thousand people witnessed the two exhibitions of Pawnee Bill's Wild West and Great Far East Shows in this city yesterday. The crowds were of course made up largely of Wilmington people though not a few came in on the morning and early afternoon trains from adjoining counties to witness the production by the famous organization. Unfortunately the grounds were situated rather remote from the central portions of the city and were not reached by the car line for nearly half a mile by a very difficult route, but that hardly diminished the crowd, for circus enthusiasm in Wilmington was never known to balk at sandy roads or rough by-paths. The tent for the afternoon performance was packed to well nigh capacity and the night crowds showed little diminution. The grounds were the baseball diamond in Hilton Park proper and thousands swarmed the place at least half, largely composed of colored people, lingering around the outside without going in the show at all. The street cars were operated only to the bridge over the Carolina Central tracks on Fourth street, but there were numerous wagonettes, hacks, carriages, buggies and the like to transfer patrons to the tents for a nominal consideration.

The big shows reached the city on special trains early Sunday morning and were unloaded from the railroad tracks in close proximity. Hundreds and hundreds of the more curious visited the ground Sunday afternoon and took a peep at show life as it is found on the "off day." Yesterday morning promptly at the hour appointed the long street parade, which was fully a mile in length, left the show grounds and passed along the principal streets of the city. The parade was remarked upon as being one of the most complete ever seen here. With a show of the class, there was not the opportunity for the spectacular that is presented with the ordinary circus, but there was endless variety and a continuity about the whole affair that evoked applause. The parade was witnessed by thousands from every point of vantage along the streets. The usual interesting scenes marked the passage of the pageant through the city and the people themselves were not the least interesting feature of the affair.

The afternoon performance began promptly on time. The grounds were necessarily dusty and rather disagreeable though attaches of the show did what they could to lay the dust with a liberal use of water from buckets, the sand being too heavy for the big sprinkler carried with the aggregation The shows made no attempt at a menagerie though there were quite a number of very interesting performing animals, a drove of camels, prairie cows and a herd of small elephants being included in the outfit. The horses, being of the Western type, were naturally not much for show but in the arena they proved themselves well ertainel and capable of affording opportunity for fine horsemanship. Pawnee Bill, in private life, Maj. Lilley, was the centre of attraction for very many. He directed the entire performance and was seen in some of the best riding stunts in the ring. Capt. Beasely, chief of the cow boy squad, and his fellows did some riding and Wild West exploiting that brought forth the greatest applause. Detachments of horsemen and cavalrymen representing all the prominent nations of the world combined with the cow boy and Far East stunts to round out a programme that was very satisfactory to the average patron.

The show people generally were found to be very clever and accommodating to patrons and as far as it could be avoided by the management —and they seem to have succeeded remarkably well—there was no "flim-flamming" or skin-games permitted by hangers-on. General Manager Krause, of the shows, co-operated in every way with the local authorities to prevent any possible breach of the peace or rowdyism in the least.

The shows early this morning had been loaded on the cars again and were on their way to Whiteville.

CAPTAIN ARRESTED

Sensational Charge Preferred Against Master of British Steamer Now in Port.

THE HEARING THIS MORNING

Charged that Capt. McLean, of the Oceola, Unlawfully Detained United States Marines from Newport News on His Ship.

Captain McLean, of the British steamer Osceola which is lying at the wharves of the Champion Compress receiving a cargo of cotton, was yesterday afternoon served by Deputy Marshal C. O. Knox with a warrant from United States Commissioner S. P. Collier's court, charging him with violation of Section 5455 of the Revised Statutes. The charge grows out of the alleged shanghaing of Byrnes and Flynn, who claim to be United States marines, at Newport News, Va., last week, when the Osceola touched there for coal. The particulars of the reported shanghaing were given in these columns Sunday morning in connection with the trial of the seamen before the Mayor on the charge of desertion from the Osceola. The warrant was served on Capt. McLean late yesterday afternoon and he at once gave bond in the sum of $2,000, with Mr. James Sprunt, British Vice-Consul, as surety for preliminary hearing at 10 o'clock this morning in the United States court room before Commissioner Collier. On account of the gravity of the offence of which no one believes Capt. McLean knowingly guilty, the case will be watched with much interest.

Upon petition of the two sailors, who are still confined in the city prison awaiting advices from the U. S. S. Columbia as to whether or not they were enlisted aboard the cruiser as they claim, they were brought before Commissioner Collier yesterday morning by Deputy Knox and Policeman W. O. Brinkley and there they made affidavit as to the facts as were brought out at the hearing before the Mayor Saturday. Upon these affidavits, the commissioner at once issued a warrant for Capt. McLean and he was brought before the court about 6 o'clock. Bond was promptly furnished by Mr. Sprunt and Capt. McLean was discharged until this morning. Able counsel has been employed to defend him. George L. Peschau and William J. Bellamy, Esqs., who appeared for the seamen before the Mayor Saturday had nothing to do with the proceedings before the Commissioner yesterday but may later appear for the government under employment of the two sailors. Mr. Bellamy telegraphed Saturday night to the commander of the Columbia to know if these men were in reality enlisted aboard his ship, but no reply had been received up to yesterday afternoon. The vessel was supposed to have been lying in Hampton Roads and some difficulty to have been encountered in delivering the message.

The section under which Capt. McLoan is indicted in the United States Court reads that every person who entices or procures or attempts or endeavors to entice or procure any enlisted man in the marine service of the United States Navy or who has been recruited for such service, to desert therefrom or who aids any such enlisted man in deserting or attempting to desert from such service, or who harbors, conceals, protects or assists any such person who may have deserted from such service, knowing him to have deserted therefrom, or who refuses to give up and deliver such person on the demand of any officer authorized to receive him, shall be punished by imprisonment not less than six months nor more than three years and by a fine not exceedingly $2,000. The same law applies to the United States Army but the penalty is less severe being not less than six months nor more than two years imprisonment and a fine not exceeding $500.

It will be remembered that the sailors claim that they had been sent ashore at Newport News to secure grate bars for the cruiser Columbia and that while on land they fell into the hands of sailors' boarding house runners and were doped and put on board the Osceola; that they woke up next morning and found themselves on the wrong ship, whereupon they informed Capt. McLean of the fact that they belonged to the United States Navy; that the captain gave them some gruff reply and denied them shore leave for the purpose of return-

THE GOOD OLD DOCTRINE.

On Saturday the Hon. John Sharp Williams, of Yazoo, Miss., one of the Representatives in Congress from that State and minority leader in the House, spoke to an audience of about 2,500 people at Statesville, N. C. Many ladies heard the distinguished Mississippian—"assembled to hear a sermon on Jeffersonian Democracy" as Mr. H. E. C. Bryant, of the Charlotte Observer, wrote to his paper in telling of Mr. Williams' speech. Mr. Bryant wrote:

"The brilliant Democratic leader spoke for two hours and held the audience almost to a man. His words fell on receptive ears. Many curious persons went out to see the famous scholar-politician, but remained to imbibe some of his wisdom. The citizens of Statesville are saying to-night that they have not been more highly entertained than they were to-day, since the palmy days of Ransom and Vance."

Leader Williams' speech pleased Editor Caldwell of the Observer, for he says of it in an editorial:

"Hon. John Sharp Williams made at Statesville yesterday a speech which was entirely great. An intelligent outline of it appears elsewhere in this paper, but no summary could do it justice. It went to the basis of Democracy and gave Democrats the reasons for the faith that is in them. There is too little recurrence to first principles and this speech was inestimably valuable for this quality if for nothing else. It was as far removed as could be from appeal to passion and the base in men, but was pitched on a lofty key and was elevated and inspiring in tone. No one could have heard it without being a better citizen. It was purely a moral and intellectual effort and appealed to the best in men and women. Chairman Simmons has done his State as well as his party a service in bringing Mr. Williams to North Carolina. It is to be hoped that he will have great audiences at Greensboro and Goldsboro this week."

Mr. Caldwell introduced Mr. Williams to his Statesville audience and heard the speech. The published remarks of Mr. Williams make good what Editor Caldwell says of it. The distinguished Mississippian preached Democracy as the South understands it, and it will stand for no other brand. "I say back to Jefferson" shouted Mr. Williams and he gave powerful reasons why that should be the slogan of the Democracy. Among other things, the Congressman said:

"How cunning are the Republicans in sins of omission," continued Mr. Williams. Mr. Shaw forgot to apologize for Reconstruction days, when Southern men and women were humiliated. The South will be solid until the Republicans make an apology in their platform for the Reconstruction.

"What does Mr. Shaw tell you?

"In the first place, he begins to fight a wind-mill which is the easiest way of getting on in the world. You pick out a thing that does not exist and then knock it down. The Democratic policy of Federal ownership or operation of railroads! No Democratic convention has ever pronounced for it and never will."

Mr. Williams made a powerful argument on the tariff and other issues, and there is no wonder that his North Carolina audience was pleased with him. He preached Democracy as it ought to be preached and about as it strikes the North Carolina Democrat.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The newest woman Stanford Oil inquisitor, it is said, is named Ida W. Butts. Probably she does. One cannot investigate much without butting in.—Charlotte Observer.

—It is significant that, while Vice-President Charles Warren Fairbanks is making speeches right along, nobody is paying any attention to them.—Buffalo Courier (Dem.)

—Mr. T. P. O'Connor thinks America is beautiful, and Mrs. O'Connor says the women are lovely. Whatever the O'Connors want they may have without asking.—Baltimore Sun.

—Secretary Wilson announces that the corn crop of the year will exceed 2,780,000,000 bushels, the largest in the country's history, and he exhibits great powers of repression by refusing to claim that the Republican party is responsible for it.—Washington Post.

—We are pained to learn that Nominee Hearst in his Buffalo speech dropped to the low level of a vulgar blackguard. He can expect to gain nothing by calling Democrats opposed to him "cockroaches," "rats" and other vermin.—Amsterdam Sentinel (Dem.)

—Mr. Marion Butler is going about over the State making a few Republican speeches. Columns might be devoted to reports of such a series of events without telling any more than was told by the innocent but very grimly sarcastic Shelby correspondent of The Charlotte Observer, who wrote that Mr. Butler had spoken in that town "without any disturbance." Yes, Mr. Butler is making his speeches "without any disturbance."—Gastonia (N. C.) Gazette.

—The Washington "Times" wants to know, "Does anybody recollect how this country used to get along before it had discovered the many-sided genius of Mr. Taft and induced him to accept the large number of jobs he is handling?" A still arded problem is to figure out how they of old ever wrote the Declaration and adopted the Constitution and such like, without the assistance of Elihu Root and his distinguished admirer from Oyster Bay.—Albany Argus (Dem.)

—John B. Moran, who was nominated for Governor of Masachusetts by the Democrats of that State, is believed to be a representative of Mr. Hearst, who is his vigorous supporter. The indorsement of Mr. Bryan for the Presidency in 1908 by the Massachusetts convention so angered Mr. Moran that he talked of refusal to run. He finally consents, but declares that the campaign should be conducted on State issues, with both Bryanism and Hearstism eliminated. That does not fool anybody as to where Mr. Moran stands.—Norfolk Landmark.

TWINKLINGS.

—Mrs. Homer—I can't understand why that woman who just moved just next door spends so much of her time with her pet dog. Mr. Homer—Oh, then you haven't seen her husband.—Chicago Daily News.

—Visitor—Remember, my good man, we know not where we will be upon the morrow. Prisoner—Well, mum, in carefully reviewin' de circumstances, I'd say dat statement hardly fits me own case.—Chicago Daily News.

—"I say, mamma," asked little Tommy, "do fairy tales always begin with 'once upon a time?'" "No, dear, not always," replied mamma; "they sometimes begin with "My love, I have been detained at the office again to-night."—Chicago News.

—Thirsty Weather—You have had quite enough beer now, Karl. "Quite right, my dear. Waiter, bring me the wine list."—Fliegende Blatter.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Did She Meet Him?

[Original.]

During the closing years of the nineteenth century an old widower with a daughter had a summer residence on the eastern end of Long Island. Evelyn Cameron not having a mother, being devoted to her father, and he very careful of her, had not to her nineteenth year seen anything of the world. In June of that year she was invited to go with a party to West Point to attend the graduating exercises of the cadets. Her father with much trepidation consented to her going. One would have supposed they were parting, the one to go around the world.

To a girl who has never seen anything of life, especially of military life, West Point in the month of roses is a fairyland. The broad plain, encircled with mountains, the river bending around on the other side, the sounds of martial music, men in uniform constantly hastening hither and thither, all give a picture such as civil life never affords. Among others, one of the graduating class, a handsome, manly young fellow, every inch a soldier, was introduced to Evelyn, and the mingling of their two young hearts was as complete as it was sudden. At the end of her visit Evelyn returned to her father at the seashore and when they were clasped in each other's arms she knew that a new world had been opened to her, a new love had come to her compared with which the old was as twilight before the rising sun. But not dreaming that the new would shut out the old, she told her father all. He bore the news manfully, but the moment Evelyn had gone to her room he sank into a chair and groaned.

Lieutenant Victor Paine received a leave after graduating and spent it by the ocean with Evelyn. If the towering hills, the beautiful plains and bending river had been inspiring to the lovers, the roll of the waves was equally so. But there was a muttering of a coming war storm far to the south that tinged the eternity of waters with sadness. To the soldier it appeared but faintly; to Evelyn it darkened the world. When it broke it found the young soldier full of enthusiasm, while it seemed to suck the life from the girl. One would have thought that it was she, not he, who was going to death's camping ground.

The parting took place at a rustic seat built between three trees. From there a path wound down through a wood to the village and the railroad station. Evelyn clung to her lover. Again and again he strove to unwind her arms. Then he said:

"Think of my return. This cannot be a long war. It will be ended before you go back to town. I will write you when I am coming and you will meet me here—here where we are parting. Then we will have a wedding, after which there will probably be no parting for years."

Her arms relaxed, and, placing her on the seat, after one more embrace the young man hurried down the path.

Then came the battle, Las Guasimas, El Caney and others. As the news was received with list of killed and wounded, though her lover's name was not among them, each report gave Evelyn a blow from which she failed to rebound. May there not be love so strong that it reaches beyond things material, groping into what is spiritual? If Evelyn saw death in the future she said nothing of it; the only evidence of presentiment was the constant and increasing blight. Letters came with as much regularity as could be expected from a soldier in the field. Frequently a number would come together, when Evelyn would shut herself in her room or go down to the seat where she had parted with Victor and read them again and again.

Her father watched her anxiously. He did all he could to divert her mind, but he could not do much and what he did was without effect. He dreaded to have her go to the parting and expected trysting place, for when she returned she was always the more drooping. Finally, when the Spaniards surrendered and all was over, she surprised him by not going to the place at all.

Just before the end Victor wrote that he had been ordered on a duty which would prevent his sending letters with any regularity. From that time no news came from him, while the troops sailed for home, and one day a fleet of transports appeared on the horizon. Evelyn watched them first with a glass, then with her naked eyes while they approached, and saw them pass on to the eastward. They were making for Montauk Point.

Toward evening Evelyn went to the trysting place. She did not return at dusk and her father went to look for her. It had grown so dark that he could not see plainly, and he called to her. There was no reply. Seeing something white on the rustic seat the old man, sure it was his daughter, called again, but still there was no reply. Reaching the place, there was Evelyn sitting on the seat, her back supported between two of the trees.

"My daughter," exclaimed the old man, "what is the matter? Why did you not answer?"

Still she did not speak, and, grasping her hand, he found it cold. She was dead.

In time news came from Victor Paine. He had been in the interior of the island when the surrender came and knew nothing of the peace that was to come. His little band was surprised by Spaniards and every man killed.

Who knows but that she may have met him in the spirit and gone with him to a bridal of death?

Indian Names.

There is an impression quite fixed in the popular mind that the Indian gets his proper name from some trait, peculiarity or deed done. The fact is every Indian child is given a name when it is a baby, or papoose. The person who does the naming is usually a medicine man or some functionary. When he sets about naming the child he lets the first thought that comes to his mind or the first thing that he sees suggest the name. One saw a man having a struggle with a horse, in which the horse had the better of it. The child got the name Man-Afraid-of-His-Horse. Another, looking out of a wigwam, saw clouds reddened by the setting sun and named the child Red Cloud. Another, it is probable, put his head out of the door of the wigwam, felt some drops of rain on his face and named the child Rain-in-the-Face. These names lose their pleasing sound and beauty and some of their meaning when translated into English.—Utica Observer.

The Wary Wild Duck

A full grown wild duck is one of the most wary of all wild creatures. A waterman may be working all day long with shovel and pickax says the author of "Bird Life and Bird Lore" barely a stone's throw from a large flock of widgeon and wild ducks, and they will not notice him, for they know that he means them no harm. But let a sportsman enter the meadows and hide his gun ever so carefully and make himself ever so small, it is ten to one that they will rise in a cloud when he is some four gunshots away from them and take themselves off to a place of greater safety.

Spirits Turpentine.

—A charter has been granted to the High Point Art Glass Company, to manufacture art glass, mosaics, etc. Capital stock $100,000, J. Elwood Cox, Dred Peacock, W. G. Bradshaw, and Frank Wineskie being the stockholders.

—Mr. Henry Ponton, for many years in charge of convicts at the State penitentiary at Raleigh, is dying at the penitentiary, from bloodpoisoning. Not long ago a tack in the sole of his shoe made a little cut in his foot, and from this the trouble began.

—Winston-Salem Special, Oct. 14. The one-week term of Forsyth Superior Court closed yesterday. Judge Ward gave seven defendants terms in the penitentiary while about twenty will serve time on the county roads. Six of those who go to the pen were convicted of robery and one for burglary. All of the parties are colored. Charles Hayes was given ten years, Ernest Hart eight years, Robert Anderson five years, Mollie Horton five years, Dora Harris and Minnie Brown three years each and Maggie Penn one year.

—Maxton Scottish Chief: The first annual stockholders' meeting of the Farmers, Merchants and Bankers' Warehouse Company was held last Monday. The reports from the various officers showed the affairs of the company to be in excellent condition. It has been engaged in business only eight months, and it was found that a dividend of fourteen per cent had been earned. This indicates that the company is earning a dividend of twenty-one per cent per year. The wollowing directors were elected for the ensuing year: A. Shaw, A. M. McKinnon, H. G. Hill, E. F. McRae, J. L. MeLean, D. A. Patterson, and A. J. McKinnon. The old officers were re-elected: E. F. McRae, president, A. J. McKinnon, vice president, and T. O. Evans, secretary and treasurer. A dividend of ten per cent was declared, and the remainder was placed to surplus account.

—Winston-Salem Special, Oct. 13: Sheriff Alspaugh will carry "Rev." N. L. Glenn, the colored ex-divine, to the State prison the first of next week. He was convicted at the last term of the criminal court of being too intimate with young female members of his congragation. He was given 14 months in the pen. Glenn's counsel gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court, but the case was not made up and the ex-preacher will not enter upon the service of his sentence. Glenn came near making his escape from the county jail yesterday. The jailor heard a noise and, upon investigation, found that Glenn and a companion had sawed the bars of their cell almost in two, and they would have been gone in a few minutes. They had secreted two table knives and by hacking them had made saws which were sufficient for the soft iron bars, and their preparations had been fully and carefully planned for an unceremonious departure.

—Reidsville Special, Oct. 14: Mr. F. C. Catlett, section master of the Southern Railway, was killed near Mizpah, about three miles south of Reidsville, yesterday morning. The linemen of the American Bell Telephone Company were throwing crossarms, it is said, along the road from the moving train at each pole, and one of the cross-arms struck Mr. Catlett, who was superintending some work along the track. Death was instantaneous. Mr. N. C. Thompson, depot agent of the Southern at Reidsville, notified Col. Craig, one of the county commissioners, in order that, if necessary, an inquest might be held. Col. Craig decided taht it would be useless. At noon the body was brought to Reidsville and carried to Barber's undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial.

—Gastonia Special, Oct. 13: Messrs. Williams and McLaughlin, two Scotland yard detectives, arrived in Gastonia to-night to investigate the alleged importation of cotton mill operators from England under violation of the contract labor law. It is understood that they have been sent here by the English government to investigate the circumstances under which a number of cotton mill hands were brought here from Manchester to work in the Loray Mill. Some weeks ago these operators arrived here, having been brought over by State Immigration Agent Contello, it is alleged. They say Castello offered them $1.25 per day, transportation and houses free of rent. Since going to work they claim that these conditions have not been met and are blaming Immigration Agent Costello. A representative of the Loray Mill, where they have been employed, says they had not been doing satisfactory work and that their services would be dispensed with at once. A number of them left Gastonia to-day and to-night, several of whom said they were going back to Manchester. It is learned here to-day that Hilda Barnes, whose real name is Edith Good, one of the English girls who came here to work and who has been detained for the past several days at Washington, has been released. She claimed that she started from here to New York and was deserted at Charlotte by her companion. On arriving at Washington she applied to the police for help, being in destitute circumstances and was held pending investigation.

—Charlotte Observer: Winston is now promised the diversion of a dispensary campaign in connection with the next election for mayor. One of its citizens has announced himself a candidate for mayor on a platform which calls for the substitition of the Great Moral Institution for the saloons which are now in Winston.

—Sheriff David R. Julian, of Rowan county, was seriously ill Saturday night for a short time, having taken a dose of creosote by mistake. Two physicians were called in and administered the most effective remedies. He suffers still as the result of his mistake.

—John Mabe, a white man from Stokes county, was arrested in Winston-Salem Saturday night and was taken to Danbury on Sunday. Mabe was in jail there three years ago and made his escape by throwing red pepper soaked in water into the jailor's eyes. He had not been heard from since his escape until Saturday night. He has a bad reputation and is considered a dangerous man.

—Boston Special, Oct. 14: One of the principal numbers on the programme of a public recital given by pupils of the New England Conservatory of Music last night was that of Miss Mary E. Futrell, of Scotland neck, N. C. Miss Futrell's number was Chopin's Cherzo in B minor for the piano forte, and her work showed an intelligence of interpretation that speaks volumes for her musical future, as well as for her instructor's teaching.

—Jasper Buchanan lies seriously and perhaps fatally wounded at his home at Sylva, Jackson county, as the result of gunshot wounds received at the hands of his son, Burton Buchanan. Four shots took effect. They entered under the seventh rib, ranging downward. The shooting was the result of an old family fued. The deed was committed Friday night and the elder Buchanan's life hangs in the balance. The family is one of good standing in the county and the tragedy is greatly deplored. The son has been arrested.

—Charlotte Observer: The Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina will meet in Statesville on Tuesday of next week. The opening session will be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and will continue in session for several days. This session of Synod promises to be very interesting, and the subjects to be discussed will be of interest not only to the ministers and laymen in attendance, but to Presbyterians throughout the State. Mr. Geo. W. Watts, of Durham, is the retiring moderator, and his successor will be elected at the first sesion.

—Charlotte Observer, Oct. 14: A number of the farmers who spent yesterday in the city spoke of the scarcity of labor throughout the county. "My cotton has been open for mone than two weeks," declared one, "and I have not been able to hire a single darkey to help me gather it. Of the 20 bales in my fields, my brother and I have been able to pick but one bale of it. I am selling that to-day. It is not because we have not offered enough, for I have agreed to pay 50 cents per hundred to all comers. Not one darky have I yet been able to get in my fields. The situation is bad."

—Charlotte Observer: Quail are said to be more numerous in the country this fall than ever before. A well-known young farmer of Crab Orchard township who spent yesterday in the city, declared that there were seven large covies of birds within rifleshot of his home, where, before they were very scarce. He added that there were twice as many birds this fall on his place than in years past. This report of many birds was vouched for by others from Steele Creek, Mallard Creek and Morning Star townships. The season in Mecklenburg county opens December 1st and lasts but 40 days, closing January 10th.

LOCAL DOTS.

—"Uncle" Joe Gray, a typical antebellum negro, form any years employed by Dr. W. D. McMillan and lately janitor for a number of offices on "magistrate's row," died the past week at the hospital where he had been under treatment for some days. He was perhaps 75 or 80 years of age and was very well thought of by a great many of the white race who knew him.

—Dr. M. H. P. Clark has removed his residence to No. 217 Red Cross street. His 'phone number is 1.435.

—License was granted yesterday for the marriage of Marcus Modlin, of Dillon, S. C., and Miss Lula Vaughn, of Wilmington.

—S. C. Copeland has been granted a permit to build a one-story three-room dwelling on Wood, between Red Cross and Miller streets.

—The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Associated Charities will be held at the office of the Association this morning at 11 o'clock.

—A number of Wilmington people contemplate going to Goldsboro to-day to hear the speech of the Hon. John Sharpe Williams. Persons from this city may go up on the morning train and return this evening.

—Deputy Sheriff Jas. H. Taylor, Jr., is on his rounds of the country townships this week for the purpose of receiving taxes for the current year. Yesterday he was at Masonboro Hall; today he goes to Wrightsville Sound and may be found at Stokley's store.

—At the residence of Mr. N. R. Parker, No. 116 Dock street, at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, Miss Etta Singleton and Mr. J. E. Parker were quietly married by Justice Bornemann in the presence of a few friends. The couple will make their home in this city.

—Hon. Harvie Jordan, President of the Southern Cotton Association, and Presidents Smith, of the South Carolina Division, and Witherspoon, of the Mississippi Division, will speak in Raleigh at the State Capitol Friday at 2:30 P. M. There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Association of North Carolina at the Yarborough House at 9:30 A. M.

M. C. GUTHRIE NOMINATED.

Will Represent Brunswick on Democratic Ticket in County.

The Brunswick County Democratic Executive Committee met last night at 7:30 o'clock in the court house at Southport and unanimously nominated M. C. Guthrie, Esq., for the Legislature vice Capt. J. J. Adkins, who was nominated by the recent convention, but who found it impossible to make the race on account of pressing business engagements. The meeting was presided over by Dr. T. V. Moore, chairman, and nearly all members of the committee were present. There were also present a large number of Democrats from all parts of the county in an advisory capacity. The gathering is spoken of as being very enthusiastic indeed and it is said that the ticket will be elected without a doubt.

Fell Through Bridge.

One of the ponies in the Pawnee Bill parade yesterday stepped through a hole in the bridge over the Coast Line tracks on Fourth street. The animal was held and gotten out with some difficulty by attaches of the show in the parade. He was only slightly hurt. A force of men was put to work repairing the bridge at once.

WILL WED THIS EVENING.

Miss Henrie Walker and Mr. W. D. McCaig, of This City.

A marriage of quite a good deal of interest to many friends in this city and elsewhere will be that of Miss Henrie Walker and Mr. W. D. McCaig, of this city, in Grace M. E. Church this evening at a quarter past 6 o'clock. A number of friends of both parties to the vows are in the city to witness the ceremony, among them being Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sweeney, of Rocky Mount; Mr. Malcolm Kathawood, of Atlanta, and Mr. T. J. Tidstall, of Gainesville, Fla. Immediately after the ceremony to-day, Mr. and Mrs. McCaig will leave for an extended bridal tour which will include Colorado and San Francisco.

Members of the wedding party and visitors were entertained most pleasantly last night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. M. Walker, No. 412 Princess street.

Cars Came Together.

A city car just ahead of one of the suburbans returning from the circus grounds yesterday afternoon stopped on the curve around Front and Red Cross. Down the steep incline the air brakes on the suburban car would not hold and it dashed into the smaller car, causing much excitement among the passengers but no one was hurt. The fenders of both cars were damaged to some extent.

A. C. L. Auditors Named.

It is said that Mr. T. J. Sweeney, of Rocky Mount, will succeed Mr. W. D. McCaig as chief travelling auditor of the A. C. L. Mr. McCaig becomes Station Accountant in the office of Mr. Prince, of the auditor's department, vice Mr. Shannon, resigned to become an expert accountant. It is stated that Mr. Chas. Kirkland, now with the Boney & Harper Milling Co., will be appointed a travelling auditor to fill the vacancy on the staff.

To-day is the best time to be fitted to LaGrecque Corsets. Do not delay. **

The Blind Man

[Copyright, 1906, by A. Whitehead.]

I had been employed about Brinley's storage house for two years when there came a day of unusual bustle. Everybody had gone when I made ready to go. I was standing in the big door, key in hand, when a man turned in from Larkis street and came forward. I felt that he had business with us and waited for him. The man was of middle age, tall and powerful, and he had a strange way of staring when he spoke to one. I remembered afterward that he was not the one to speak first and that he seemed a bit embarrassed until I addressed him. Then he replied:

"Boy, I have an order here for a trunk. Is it too late to have it attended to?"

I replied that it was. He put his hand into his pocket as if to produce the order, but did not do so. When I told him that he would have to come in the morning he hung in the wind for a moment and then said;

"The trunk was left here four years ago when I went away to Russia. I suppose it is all right, but if I could see it once and make sure I should sleep better tonight. If that trunk has been lost then I am a pauper."

I asked him to describe it. We had 500 trunks upstairs, and of course many of them were alike. I had never received orders to cover a case of this kind, and I certainly did not suspect the stranger of any evil intent. In my desire that he should not worry and thinking to show off a bit at the same time I offered to take him upstairs and see if he could identify his trunk. He thanked me over and over again and suggested that I lock the lower door to make things safe during our absence. The shutters had already been closed up stairs and down, and I had to light one of the lamps. The man followed after me, and when we reached the head of the stairs he turned his head about in a helpless way and remarked:

"What sort of a place have we here, boy? Is it full or empty?"

"About two-thirds full, sir," I replied.

"And where are the trunks?"

"Down at the far end. Come down this alleyway."

"Yes; all right."

He followed me, but I noticed that he bumped on either side quite frequently and tapped with his cane on the floor. Before we reached the pile of trunks I began to wonder if he was not blind. I stopped before the heap of them and asked if he saw one resembling his, and at the same time I noticed that his fingers were gripping his cane and that he was preparing to use it as a weapon. I stooped to put the lamp in a sheltered position, and as I did so his cane whistled over my head. The force of his blow threw him up against the trunks, and before he could recover I was twenty feet away. Had I run directly for the stairs I could have got down first and trapped him, but I took a contrary direction. Of course he had heard my movements, and, standing with his face toward me, he said:

"Boy, I want a trunk out of here marked 'E. Jacobs.' The tag is tied to the handle. Get that trunk for me and I'll give you a guinea. If you refuse, then look out for yourself. I'm a bad man when crossed."

I made no reply, but began retreating. I moved like a mouse, and yet he heard me. It was only when we started to follow that I was sure he was blind. He did not pick up the light to guide his footsteps, and neither could he avoid bumping into various objects. I knew every inch of the big room, and even in the dark I had no trouble in getting about. My idea was to reach the stairs, but he knew what I was after and kept heading me off. He stumbled over and picked up a piece of iron, and with this for a weapon he was no mean adversary. After offering me the guinea it was five minutes before he spoke again. Then he broke out into fierce cursing and threats of vengeance and warned me that if I got downstairs and outdoors I would find a man ready there to put a knife into me. He increased his offer to 5 guineas, and when I did not answer him he fell to cursing again.

If the thing had not come upon me so suddenly I could have outwitted him the sooner. I was dodging him for fully twenty minutes before I got hold of a small parcel from one of the shelves and gave it a toss that landed it twenty feet away. The blind man at once moved in that direction, and I got down on hands and knees and made for the stairs. He fell over a box, got up and banged against a box and yet reached the stairs as soon as I did. His bump of locality was wonderful. We were standing ten feet apart when he cried out:

"I hear you breathing! I know just where you are! Boy, get me that trunk or I'll be the death of you in one minute."

I involuntarily shrank back, thinking he was coming for me. He reasoned that I was sneaking downstairs, and in his haste to seize me he let go of prudence. Three steps carried him to the landing, and at the fourth he stepped into space and went headlong. When he brought up at the foot of the stairs I waited awhile to see if he would call out, and as he did not I got the lamp and descended. The blind man lay there in a huddle with a broken neck.

Of course the affair was inquired into, but we never learned the man's identity. It ought to have been easy to locate a blind man, but we failed to do it. The trunk he was after contained title deeds and other papers of value, and a search of the dead man's person proved that he had no order for it.

ing to their ship; that they attempted to go ashore anyway and were prevented from doing so by policemen at Newport News, employed by the captain to watch the ship; that one of them even went to the extremity of jumping overboard, but was caught and returned aboard the British steamer.

In this connection the following received early this morning by Associated Press will be read with interest:

"Newport News, Va., Oct. 15.—Newspaper accounts of the story told by James Byrne and Thomas Flynn, the two sailors, who, when arrested at Wilmington, N. C., for deserting from the British ship Osceola, said they had belonged to the crew of the United States cruiser Columbia and had been shanghaied at this port and put aboard the Osceola, caused an investigation to be made by the local police authorities. It developed that Byrne and Flynn were regularly signed aboard the Osceola before the British consul here, and the police records show that both men had been posted as deserters from the navy some days before they joined the British ship. Notices offering rewards of $20 for the capture of the two men were on file at police headquarters at the time Byrne and Flynn were brought here from Norfolk by a shipping agent.

WILLIAMS AT GREENSBORO.

Replied to Secretary Shaw's Salisbury Speech— Railroad Ownership.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Greensboro, N. C., October 15.—John Sharpe Williams, of Mississippi, minority leader in the lower House of Congress, spoke here to-day in reply to a speech made by Secretary Shaw in Salisbury a few weeks ago. Mr. Williams claimed for the Democratic party the credit of passage of the rate bill in Congress and also for the insurance investigation. "The statement of Mr. Bryan that he believes in government ownership of railroads," said the speaker, "is Mr. Bryan's private opinion and will find no place in the Democratic platform."

The discusion of the tariff question constituted the major portion of Mr. Williams' speech. He criticised the Republican members of Congress for voting against a bill to allow cement to be used in rebuilding San Francisco to be admitted duty free ,and also for defeating the bill providing that purchases for the Panama canal should be made in foreign countries when they could be bought at lower prices than in the United States.

Three workmen employed by the Roanoke Stone and Lime Company at a quarry near Roanoke, Va., were killed yesterday by the premature explosion of dynamite. When last seen the men were thawing the dynamite at a fire in the open, and it is thought one of them kicked a stick of the explosive.

Ingersoll on Napoleon.

A little while ago I stood by the grave of the great Napoleon—a magnificent tomb of gilt and gold. I saw him take an empire by the force of his genius. I saw him upon the frightful field of Waterloo, when chance and fate combined to wreck the fortunes of the former king, and I saw him at St. Helena with his hands crossed behind him gazing out at the sad and solemn sea. I thought of the orphans and widows he had made, of the tears that had been shed for his glory, and of the only woman who had ever loved him pushed from his heart by the cruel hand of ambition, and I said I would rather have been a French peasant and worn wooden shoes. I would rather have been that poor peasant with my loving wife by my side, knitting as the day died out in the skies, with my children upon my knees and their arms about me. I would rather have been that man and gone down to the tongueless silence of the dreamless dust than to have been that impartial impersonation of force and murder known as Napoleon the Great.—Woman's Home Companion.

Blowing the Nose.

Medical experts are calling the attention of the public to the importance of performing the nose blowing operation in a scientific and hygienic manner. First one nostril and then the other should be blown without undue violence. Doctors state that the two nasal passages should never be closed at the same time. If they are obstructed, as in the case of a cold, the back of the throat is filled with compressed air, and this, together with the discharge and the microbes which it contains, may be driven through the eustachial tube into the middle ear and lead to serious results. A great authority on the subject used to forbid his patients to blow their noses when suffering from a cold. The course is hardly one which will commend itself to those in the habit of catching colds. The best advice would seem to be that when it is necessary to blow the nose the blowing should be done gently.—London Mail.

Too Lively.

He was a solemn Scotchman, with an equally solemn and somewhat downtrodden wife. The fact that they were receiving an excellent price for their "second pair front" from an American lodger did not blind them to her failings.

"Dear me, Mr. Macleod," said the lodger, one Sunday afternoon, when an errand took her to the parlor, where the family sat, "I should think you and your wife would be stifled sitting indoors this hot day with the windows shut. If you'd just open one and get some fresh air, I'm sure it would do Mrs. Macleod good; she looks pale."

Mr. Macleod looked at her with his usual stern and unbending gaze.

"We can hae fresh air ony day," he said calmly. "We've no need to hae it rushing aboot the house on the Sawbath."

Germany the Modern Rome.

Let the German people keep a lesson from antiquity before their eyes. Once before an England and a Germany of no less different character have confronted each other. They were Carthage and Rome. And old Rome with its policy of force and power finally conquered the cash politics of Carthage and raised itself to the position of the first power upon earth. We have historical example when we say that the German people must return from the imitation of the un-German Carthaginian-British finance policy and must go back to the Roman-German policy of power and might. In no other way can a really great Weltpolitik be promoted in the hope perhaps of making ourselves ultimately the leading people in the world.—Berlin Grenzboten.

For Hygienic Reasons.

Mistress—Why have you not swept this morning? Servant—For hygienic reasons. Madame raises the dust sufficiently with the train of her skirt. We must give the microbes a little rest.—Paris Armales.

When men are friends there is no need of justice, but when they are just they still need friendship.—Aristotle.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS DYING.

No Hope That She Would Live Throughout Night.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, October 15.—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow af the president of the Confederate States, is dying of pneumonia at the Hotel Majestic, here. It is believed that she cannot survive more than a few hours. Mrs. Davis has been ill several days but it had been believed that she would recover up to last night when a sudden change for the worse was noticed.

Mrs. Davis went to the Majectic a short time ago on her return from the Adriondacks where she spent most of the Summer. The day she reached town she was stricken with a cold which induced pneumonia. Her marvelous vitality, however, gave hope of ultimate recovery until last evening when her physicians announced that death was near.

Nearby relatives was at once summoned to the hotel and those at a distance were notified. Mrs. J. Addison Hayes, the only surviving daughter of Mrs. Davis, J. Addison Hayes, W. D. Hayes, a grandson, of Colorado Springs, Dr. and Mrs. Webb, and Dr. Robert H. Wylie were present at the bedside throughout the night. Dr. Webb, who is the husband of one of Mrs. Davis' grand-daughters, has attended the patient throughout her illness. Jefferson Hayes Davis, a grandson and student at Princeton, was summoned when Mrs. Davis was knonw to be dying. Mrs. Davis had her eightieth birthday on May 7th last. The late years of her life have been saddened by the loss of her daughter Winnie, who died in September, 1898, at Narragansett Pier.

REV. SAM JONES DIED SUDDENLY.

Had Attack of Heartfailure on Train in Arkansas.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Little Rock, Ark., October 15.—Rev. Sam P Jones the well known evangelist, of Cartersville, Ga., died early to-day of heart failure in a sleeping car on train No. 4 of the Rock Island Railroad near Perry, Ark. Mr. Jones had been conducting a most successful revival at Oklahoma City, O. T., and left there last night for his home in Georgia. He desired to attend a family reunion to-morrow, it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth.

Mrs. Jones and his daughters, Mrs. Annie Pyron and Miss Julia Jones, were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Jones arose from his berth in the sleeper about 5 o'clock this morning and complained of nausea. He drank a glass of hot water and immediately afterward collapsed. Rev. Walter Holcomb, who had been associated with Mr. Jones for a number of years, took the dying man in his arms and in a few minutes the evangelist breathed his last. The body was embalmed and was sent to Cartersville this afternoon. The funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. George Stuart, of Tennessee; the Rev. J. A. Bowen, of Mississippi, and the Rev. Walter Holcomb, of North Carolina.

Dress Goods, Cloaks and Clothing

Our Millinery Department has made special preparations to show the ladies a treat in head wear. Our stock in this department was never larger. Our head milliner, Miss Brown, and Miss Smith, our head saleslady, have recently returned from New York and Philadelphia where they spent three weeks visiting the large retail openings of those cities taking advantage of all the latest styles on exhibition.

Our pattern hats, as well as the untrimmed stock, will be marked down at the very lowest prices, and we trim all hats free that are brought to us.

We also carry a large stock of new hat frames which have been carefully selected and which you can have made to your order.

Our millinery department is on the same floor with our cloaks, waists and skirts. In this department you will also find our underwear for women and children. This stock you will find very strong and we have all the styles which you may desire.

Our dress goods and silk department is on our first floor, and in this department we have better salespeople than ever before.

Ladies who are visiting the Millinery Opening, I will be glad to have stop and see our dry goods and dress goods departments.

We have a large quantity of new Fall goods on display and to buy your dress goods from us will be a saving to you. We have also an extensive display in trimmings, buttons and braids.

Our lining department represents all the colors, all styles of fine material used by dressmakers.

Our cloak department has been nicely arranged on a floor to themselves. We carry an immense line of cloaks for both retail and wholesale.

The department is in the charge of two of our young ladies who will do their best in showing you through the department and in pleasing you. You will also see in this department a big line of furs of the very latest styles ranging in price from $1.00 to $15.00 each.

Remember the days of the Opening is Tuesday and Wednesday, October 9th and 10th, and beginning at 9.00 A. M. and closing at 7 P. M.

We will have music each day.

MRS. HUNTINGTON PAID $20,000 DUTY

Brought Back From Europe $32,000 Merchandise Purchased During Summer Trip Abroad—She Once Once Paid $32,000.

New York Herald.)

One of the largest amounts paid in customs duty at this port in several years on articles fully declared and brought in by an individual was paid by Mrs. Collis P. Huntington when she arrived on Tuesday by the Kaiser Wilhelm II., of the North German Lloyd line. She declared merchandise worth $32,000, bought in Europe, of which $27,000 represented two articles of jewelry. The duty amounted to about $20,000.

Mrs. Huntington was met by friends who told her they had brought $5,000 to the pier with them. She instructed them to send for $15,000 more. This money soon arrived in bills of large denominations, one being a $10,000 gold note.

Mrs. Huntington holds the record for paying the largest cash amount of duty on declared articles ever handed over to government officials on the dock. This was $32.000 in 1901.

More than $28,000 in all was collected by customs officials from passengers of the Kaiser Wilhelm II. This is the third largest amount ever collected in the history of the service.

TESTS PATIENCE.

The Most Patient Wilmington Citizen Must Show Annoyance at Times.

Nothing spoils a good disposition,
Nothing taxes a man's patience,
Like any Itchiness of the skin.
Itching piles almost drive you crazy.
All day it makes you miserable,
All night it keeps you awake.
Itch! Itch! Itch! with no relief.
Just the same with Eczema.
Can hardly keep from scratching it.
You would do so, but you know it makes it worse.
Such miseries are daily decreasing.
People are learning they can be cured.

Learning the merit of Doan's Ointment.

Plenty of proof that Doan's Ointment will cure Piles, Eczema or any Itchiness of the skin.

Read the testimony of a Wilmington citizen.

C. H. Horton, printer on the Morning Star, residing at 109½ Dock street, says: "I had a rasn on my body which had been bothering me for sometime and often almost set me wild. I used lots of medicine and remedies, but without relief until I procured Doan's Ointment from Bellamy's drug store. I found it to be most excellent. I do not believe it was ten minutes after I applied it before I had relief. I am glad to let others know of an effective preparation like Doan's Ointment proved to be in my case."

The Great Difference In Life Insurance Companies

is not revealed by their names nor their claims. The day before the San Francisco disaster, all Fire Insurance Companies seemed alike to the thoughtless; there was a great difference nevertheless, and when the test came, some quibbled, some defaulted, while others drew on the reserve funds which they had ready for such a contingency, paid the large amounts due, and went right on.

¶ It is because for years the money it has received from its policyholders has been invested with unusual skill and care—always safe, always growing, always ready for the hour of need—that is the strongest and staunchest Life Insurance Company in the world. Read these figures as to the Mutual reserve. ¶ At the close of 1905, the Mortgage Loans amounted to $109,771,163.16, on which more than four and one-half millions have been received in interest during the year, and less than fifteen thousand dollars of interest was overdue at its close. Most of this trifling amount was paid in within a few days. The sum of $28,198,278.84 was loaned on the Company's policies, and $18,195,000.00 was loaned on other collateral, no interest whatever being overdue on either item. Bonds and Stocks costing $239,986,702.05 and having a market value on December 31, 1905, of $265,301,867.38 were held by the Company, and on this enormous amount not one dollar of interest was overdue and unpaid, and but one stock failed to pay a good dividend in 1905, this stock being that of a new company, subsequently sold at a profit over cost. When it is borne in mind that no such aggregation of purely investment securities has ever been brought together elsewhere, the absolutely clean and indeed perfect quality of these immense investments excites praise and wonder, felt and expressed most strongly by those who know most as financiers of the dangers and pitfalls attending the care of large investments. This remarkable showing also appeals to the plain people whose money comes slowly, who value safety and who understand that security like the above makes "insurance" insurance indeed.

THE PRIBILOF ISLANDS.

Where No White Man May Land Unless He Has a Permit.

Unalaska resembles other northern stations, having warehouses, docks, the inevitable Greek church and a score of wooden cabins. Whalers leave here for the arctic regions.

Dutch Harbor is a station for our revenue fleet. There is much coming and going of ships of all nations. There is quite a formidable fleet, and only two ships out of twelve carry colors of the same country.

Just before entering the harbor one notices a detached rock high against the side of the cliff. It bears a striking resemblance to a Russian priest in full robes. Touched by the sunset light, he seems to stand blessing the harbor.

Sailing north out into Bering sea, one looks back at the desolate, silent, treeless islands, which seem to wall the edge of the world. Hundreds of miles west they run toward Vladivostok.

Two hundred and forty miles north of Unalaska are the Pribilof islands, not large, but the greatest seal islands in the world. There are many fur seals around the shores of Bering sea and the Aleutian islands, but the great mass of them are bred on the Pribilof group. No white man is permitted to land on these breeding grounds without a permit signed by the secretary of the treasury of the United States.—Outdoor Life.

The Pace of the Camel.

As a matter of fact, and in spite of its having carried Mohammed in four leaps from Jerusalem to Mecca, seven miles an hour is the camel's limit, nor can it maintain this rate over two hours. Its usual speed is five miles an hour—a slow pace, beyond which it is dangerous to urge it, lest, as Asiatics say, it might break its heart and die literally on the spot. When a camel is pressed beyond this speed and is spent it kneels down, and not all the wolves in Asia will make it budge again. The camel remains where it kneels, and where it kneels it dies. A fire under its nose is useless.—Times of India.

He Had His Wish.

Carl Schurz had no consideration for hypocrites or pretenders. Upon literary pretenders he was particularly severe. At a dinner in New York one night a man of wealth who had written a volume of poems sneered at politics.

"I wouldn't give a picayune," he said, "for a senatorship or a cabinet office. To be even president wouldn't tempt me. I, for my part, would rather be known any day as a third rate poet than a first rate statesman."

"Well, aren't you?" said Mr. Schurz.

Minerals In Water.

Lead or zinc ore can be so finely pulverized that a tablespoonful may be mixed in a bucket of clear water without being visible to the naked eye. When thus powdered the particles are so minute that it often takes half an hour for them to settle to the bottom of a vessel full of water. This fact makes it evident that a stream may carry large quantities of minerals rich in metals.

ROCK CLIFF LITHIA SPRINGS WATER.

READ WHAT ONE OF THE MOST NOTED CITIZENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA HAS TO SAY OF THE FAMOUS ROCK CLIFF SPRINGS WATER.

Spartanburg, S. C., July 24.

To Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Co.:

Gentlemen:—This will certify that I was severely afflicted with a serious case of erysipelas, that confined me to my bed for about six months or more, with daily attendance of my physician, and which eventually settled in my left leg and became so severe that a consultation of three physicians was held and the decision reached that the lower part of my leg would have to be amputated to prevent the disease extending to the upper part of my leg and body. I declined the operation and was advised to try Rock Cliff Lithia Springs Water. I engaged board near the spring and was advised to bathe my leg in the water, at the same time drinking freely.

This application soon soothed the pain, and for the first time in months previous I slept for about two hours. After a week's treatment, without any medicine or physician's help, I walked to the spring on crutches. I continued the treatment daily, and within two weeks was able to walk to the spring without crutches and in four weeks was able to walk home, a distance of 1½ miles, and resume my official business.

I was permanently cured by the use of the water, and take great pleasure in giving you this testimonial to the efficiency of the Rock Cliff Springs Water in the treatment of erysipelas.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, October 15.—It was a very nervous and unsettled day in the cotton market with trading only moderately active as judged by recent standards. A strong opening advance was followed by irregular reactions with the close barely steady at a net advance of 8 to 13 points. Sales for the day were reported at 350,000 bales. The opening was strong at an advance of 21 to 29 points in response to higher cables, covering of shorts, fresh buying for long account, and reports of heavy rains in the southwest. There was very heavy realizing at the advance, however, the covering of Saturday had greatly reduced the short interest, and the market eased off after the opening under scattered liquidation for a turn. After selling to within 12 or 13 points of Saturday's close there was a sharp rally on a private crop estimate placing the crop at 11,410,000, but offerings again increased and the close was at the lowest for the season. There was very little indication of support from the bull leaders during the day's trading.

Receipts at the ports to-day 68,801 bales, against 62,224 last week, and 54,041 last year. For the week 375,000 bales against 346,051 last week and 319,834 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 15,698, against 18,822 last year and at Houston 19,256 bales, against 17,057 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet 10 points advance; middling uplands 11.40; middling gulf 11.65; sales 300 bales.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, October 15.—The dry goods market continued very strong to-day with all prices showing a hardening tendency. Lonsdale sheetings and cambrics were advanced. Very large sales of printed goods are being made. Colored cottons and wide sheetings have been advanced. The demand for goods is very much in excess of the present supply and large orders are being booked for delivery in 1907 on domestics. Raw silk is firm. Dress goods were more active.

There's no use getting mad if that for sale sign you stuck on the front of your vacant house has not brought you a tenant or purchaser. Your sign has been read and reread by practically the same people, who pass by it every day and who are too intent on other things to stop and look over the property. Now, if you would advertise in the Business Locals of the Morning Star it would come before the eyes of all the people looking for real estate. This is because they are accustomed to have the Morning Star tell them what property in Wilmington may be had.

SENATOR BURTON TO GO TO JAIL.

United States Supreme Court Has Denied Motion for Rehearing of Case.

TOOK 3 YEARS TO LAND HIM

Convicted of Acting as Attorney Agaainst Government While U. S. Senator—Six Months in Jail and $2,500 Fine.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, October 15.—The Supreme Court of the United States today denied a petition of former United States Senator Burton, of Kansas, for a re-hearing in the case in which he is under sentence of imprisonment and fine on the charge of accepting an attorney's fee in a case in which the government was interested while he was serving as a Senator. The effect of the decision will be the immediate imprisonment of Burton unless his attorneys devise some other means of postponing the execution of the sentence.

There was no formal announcement of the decision in the Burton case in open court, the Chief Justice merely handing a brief memorandum to the clerk of the court just before convening.

The case of Senator Burton has been before the court since 1903 when he was indicted in St. Louis on the charge of accepting a fee for representing the Reliato Grain Company, of that city, in an effort to debar it from the use of the United States mails. He was found guilty and sentenced to serve six months in jail and pay a fine of $2,500. On an appeal to the Supreme Court the decision was reversed on a technicality, and a second trail was ordered. The second verdict was indentical with the first, and it was affirmed by the Supreme Court. This affirmation was announced just before the close of the term of court in May last. The motion for re-hearing was then filed. It was claimed on Burton's behalf that the court had not had the real facts before it in considering the case.

Will Take His Medicine.

Abiline, Kas., October 15.—Joseph Randolph Burton, former United States Senator from Kansas, when seen at his home here to-day by an Associated Press representative regarding the action of the United States Supreme Court in refusing him a re-hearing said:

"This is not my time to talk."

Mr. Burton absolutely declined to talk of the case. However, it is stated from an authoritative source that he has already communicated with his attorneys asking that his term of imprisonment be arranged to begin at the earliest possible moment.

GAVE SUGAR TRUST REBATES.

Jury Secured in Case Against New York Central.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, October 15.—A jury was secured to-day in the criminal branch of the United States Circuit Court for the New York Central and Hudson Railroad Company and Frederick L. Pomeroy, traffic manager of the road, jointly indicted for violating the Elkins law which prohibits the granting of rebates. Nathan Guilford, vice president of the Central was also named as a defendant in the joint indictment, but he is still ill and will not appear as a defendant in the indictment, during the present proceedings.

It is charged that discriminations in favor of the American Sugar Refining Company and others made by the defendants. Judge Holt, who presided, denied a motion argued by counsel for the defense to quash the indictment on the ground that a joint indictment against a corporation and its agents is illegal.

The court said that it believed that Congress had carefully considered the pasage of the Elkins' act and that its provisions relatively to the relations existing between master and servant had been thoroughly considered. The case will proceed to-morrow.

It is expected that an adjustment of the differences which caused the strike the machinists of the Southern Railway will be faciliated by a meeting to be held in Washington Wednesday between the officials of the railway and the strike committees of the machinists. President O'Connell, of the Association of Machinists, has directed the members of the committee representing the various lodges of the organization at points on the Southern system to attend the conference.

TWENTY-FIVE DEAD AND 200 ENTOMBED

Terrific Explosion at Midnight in Coal Mine at Durham, England.

EIGHTY MINERS RESCUED.

Signals Exchanged With Entombed Men at Bottom of Pit—Narrow Escape of Thousands Employed in Mine.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Durham, England, October 15.—As a result of an explosion at Wingate colliery about midnight last night, twenty-five miners were killed and 200 are temporarily entombed. It is fortunate that only a small portion of the thousand employed in the mine were down when the explosion took place. The cause is supposed to have been fire damp.

The explosion was one of terrific force and in Wingate town many windows were broken. Soon after the news of the disaster became known, crowds of half clad people were rushing toward the mine and there were heart-rendering scenes.

By daylight signals had been exchanged with the botton seam where a majority of the men were entombed, to the effect that they were safe and with this mesage came a sense of great relief.

Eighty men were brought out alive. Many of these, however, were in a critical condition, being unconscious. Later supplies of coffee and sandwiches were passed in to those still entombed. At a late hour to-night, to the joy of their relatives, four men were brought up from the lower seam where the deaths had occurred. These men had been reckoned among the dead.

It is hoped that all the entombed men will be rescued during the night.

AMERICANS ARE CHAMPIONS

Won Sunday's Game from Nationals By Score of 8 to 3.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, October 15.—The Chicago team of the American Baseball league is the champion of the world. By winning yesterday's game, 8 to 3, against the local club of the National league, the Americans earned the right to float the world's championship pennant of the American league, to ride to the grounds next season in carriages and to have "World's Champions" lettered on the blankets worn by their horses. Yesterday's game was the sixth of the series and the fourth victory for the Americans.

That the victory was a fairly earned one is shown not only by the fact that the Americans won four out of six games, incidently making it unnecessary to play the seventh, but by the hits and runs. The Americans all told made 22 runs, compared with 18 for the Nationals. They made 39 base hits, as against 37 for the Nationals. The Nationals made but five errors, compared with 14 by the Americans. The latter also made the greater number of extra base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases.

Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the American pitchers most of the credit is due. This is despite the fact that the American pitchers have but 26 strikeouts to their credit, against 35 for the Nationals. The Americans gave 19 bases on balls, as against 18 by the Nationals. Notwithstanding this, the American pitchers were effective when hits meant runs, particularly against such men as Chance, Schulte, Steinfeldt and Kling. These men, all consistent. 300 hitters were all but helpless during most of the series. On the other hand the Americans, popularly called the "hitless wonders," batted more strongly than their opponents, who during the season had done the heaviest batting in the National league. In stealing bases the Nationals had a shade over the Americans. Catchers Kling and Sullivan, who caught the entire series, were both formidable to base-runners, but of the total 13 bases stolen the Nationals got 8.

Over 19,000 paid admissions had been registered at the gate at noon yesterday, the balmy weather and the holiday bringing them out early. The grounds being full to bursting, the gates were closed and play was begun at 2:15 o'clock. Completely encircling the grounds was a closely packed crowd of enthusiastics.

Sequel to Long Standing Grudge Borne by One Man to the Other.

BOTH INDIANS DRINKING.

Sunday Tragedy Near Buie, Robeson County—Andrew Oxendine Killed By John Lochlear—Both Men Had Been Drinking.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 15.—Andrew Oxendine, a Croatan, aged about 50 years, was shot and killed yesterday afternoon by John V. Locklear, another Croatan, about 35 years old. The killing took place near Buie postoffice, this county, between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon near a Croatan church. It seems from the various reports that Oxendine bore a bad and dangerous reputation generally. Though never convicted of committing a murder, he was suspected of having committed several. He was tried on the charge of murdering one Brooks but came clear. He was also suspected of burning the depot and postoffice at Buie.

After the shooting Locklear drove Oxendine's mule to the church and gave it to one of Oxendine relatives to care for. Locklear then surrendered to one Will Baker and came to Lumberton and surrendered to Sheriff McLeod. He has employed a lawyer and will plead self-defence. Coroner Rancke, who held the inquest last night returned to his home here this afternoon. His jury found that Oxendine had been killed by Locklear. In the dead Croatan's pocket was found a pistol with all chambers loaded, a pocket knife and some keys. The pistol was in a rusty condition and the caps of the balls looked as if they had been snapped on.

Another Account.

Lumberton, Oct. 14.—Andrew Oxendine, a Croatan, was killed this afternoon by John Locklear, also a Croatan. The killing took place about 11 miles from Lumberton, near Buie, this county. Locklear came to Lumberton in company with Will Baker, at times a deputy sheriff, surrendered to Sheriff McLeod and was lodged in jail.

Locklear employed an attorney and will not talk. However, your correspondent heard the following in regard to the affair.

Oxendine was a Croatan of bad reputation generally. He has been suspected of several murders, but was never convicted. He was twice accused of burning the depot at Buie. None of these charges were ever proven against him. He was sentenced to serve a term in the penitentiary for bribery in the nineties, but was pardoned by Governor Russell. The particular charge against him then was that he had posed as an officer and had arrested several negroes and acepted hush money from them.

It is understood that bad feeling had existed between him and Locklear for some time and Oxendine had remarked about Locklear's not visiting him, and it is further reported that Oxendine had said that he would make a target of Locklear at some time.

To-day they were both drinking wine and met up together near Buie, Locklear got in the buggy with Oxendine and they drove up the road some distance, when Oxendine pulled his pistol and tried to shoot Locklear. The latter caught hold of Oxendine's pistol and at the same time pumped three balls into Oxendine, one in the head and two in the body.

Oxendine's pistol was discharged while Locklear held it and a ball tore a hole in Locklear's finger.

Effort to Make Railroad Magnate Disgorge $10,000,000.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

New York, October 15.—An action against the Great Northern Railway Company and J. J. Hill, wherein charges of misconduct are made against Mr. Hill as president and director of the railway company, and restitution in an amount said to exceed $10,000,000 is asked, was given by Clarence Venner to-day in United States District Court. Venner, who claims to hold 300 shares of Great Northern stock, alleges that in 1901 President Hill wrongfully and illegally carried out a plan to purchase Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway stock in the open market at a price said to be a little over $150 per share, but which it is alleged became the property of the Great Northern and the Union Pacific railway jointly at $200 per share.

The amount paid is alleged to have exceeded $35,000,000 and President Hill is charged with making a profit of over $10,000,000. The complaint asks that restitution be made to the stockholders of this money.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Philadelphia, Pa., October 15.—The fight between two women over the distribution of $60,000,000 estate of the late William Weightman, the chemist, who was Philadelphia's wealthiest man, was abruptly halted to-day by the production of a small white piece of note paper that had been turned yellow with age. What the piece of paper contained was not made public, and no less than a dozen persons who have seen it have pledged themselves never to reveal its contents. The halt in the proceedings was made at the suggestion of the counsel for Mrs. Jones Wister, who is acting as guardian for her daughter, Martha, the contestant, and the sudden turn in the case has made the beneficiaries of the will jubilant. They freely predict that the case has been ended forever.

William Weightman in 1884 made a will leaving his vast estate equally between Anne M. Weightman Walker, his daughter, and two sons, William and John. Ten years later he made another will leaving his entire estate to the daughter, the two sons having died, leaving eight children. The widow of William Weightman, the mother of five children, married John Wister, and when Mr. Weightman, her father-in-law, died, she contested the will on behalf of her minor daughter, Martha, on the ground that he left a codicil, in which he provided for the grand-children. The other seven grand-children who had reached their maturity were satisfied with the sums the wealthy chemist had during his life left them in trust. Mrs. Walker, the sole heir to the fortune, denied that her father had made a codicil. The contest was begun nearly two years ago and was called for trial before Judge Ashman in the Orphans Court to-day with a great array of counsel on each side.

The morning sesion was taken up with the examination of three witnesses, one of whom was Mrs. Walker, who plainly showed her bitterness against Mrs. Wister. One of the other two witnesses was Edward T. Davis, for many years private secretary to Mr. Weightman, and he was a witness to the signing of the last will. Counsel for Mrs. Wister asked him if he remembered Mr. Weightman subsequent to drawing up his will having written something on a piece of note paper and then place it in his desk. He said he had, but did not know what Mr. Weightman had written. Thereupon Alexander Simpson, Jr., of counsel for Mrs. Wister, demanded the production of the paper, and after Attorney General Carson, of Pennsylvania and John G. Johnson, of counsel for Mrs. Walker, had fumbled through their documents they produced it. The paper was carefully read by Mrs. Wister's attorney and then handed to witness, who said it looked like the paper he had seen Mr. Weightman write. It was then marked for identification and returned to Mr. Carson. The examination of Mrs. Walker, who is one of the richest women in America, then followed, no further attention being paid to the piece of paper.

When court re-convened for the afternoon sesion Mr. Simpson announced that counsel for both sides had held a conference during the recess and at the request of Mrs. Wister's lawyers, the opposing side had consented to a continuance of the case.

The sudden stop in the proceedings caused a sensation and rumors were quickly put in circulation that the case had been compromised. All attorneys denied a compromise had been agreed to but none would give a reason for the postponement.

Finally Mr. Parsons admitted that the piece of paper presented at the morning sesion was the probable cause of the trun of affairs and his statement was confirmed later in the day.

Mrs. Walker was not aware that the case had been continued until she arrived in the court room in the afternoon. There was a general shaking of hands and every other indication that Mrs. Walker was exceedingly satisfied with the sudden ending of the proceedings.

"Real Love Letters of a Real Girl"

"I am not going to beat the drum of sentiment and make a wailful noise. Nothing is so dead as a dead infatuation. The more a person has been infatuated, the more he resents an attempt to galvanize the dull, dead thing into life. I am wise, you see, to the end. And reasonable, too, I hope. And brave. And brave, I tell you. Do you think I will be a coward, and cry out? I make you a present of everything; of the love and happy thoughts, of the pleasant dreams and plans, of the little prayers sent up, and the blessings called down—there were a great many every day—of the kisses, and all the dear sweetness. Take it all. I want nothing from you in rreturn. But do you suppose that, having given you all this, I am going to give you my soul as well? To moan my life away, my beautiful life? You are not worth it. You are not worth, anything hardly. You are unstable, invertebrate. My life shall be splendid in spite of you. You shall not cheat me of one single chance of heaven."—(From Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther in the November Delineator).
